Full-period insight: The overall win rate is 63.51%. Central leads at 70.24%, compared with 58.79% in West and 57.81% in East. This gap represents missed revenue outside Central. Review Central's qualification and closing practices and apply the relevant methods in East and West.

Full-period insight: “No Decision Made” and “Poor Product Fit” caused 86 of 184 lost deals, or 46.7% of all losses. These results suggest weaknesses in qualification and customer needs assessment. Strengthen early-stage discovery and require sales managers to review deals showing either risk.

Full-period insight: YieldMax Software has the highest support volume at 334 tickets, including 13 recent tickets, while representing $40,722 in deal value. The combination of high revenue and heavy support demand creates a retention risk. Sales and Support should conduct an account review and agree on a recovery plan.
